

The Gift

*When I gave you the Gift due to the birth of the King,
I truly felt that It would bring you great joy and delight.
I also imagined that you would display It in a place for all to see,
but obviously that was not to be Its plight.*

*And when you kept It hid away and out of plain sight,
I was greatly disappointed that It was not as important to you, as It was to Me. Maybe It wasn't for you what you thought It would be?
The things of this world will indeed fade away and be diminished, and only what God has given will matter when all is finished.*

So it's best to keep in mind that only the things of Heaven will last and be forever, and what you do for the LORD Jesus Christ will be applied to that treasure.

God most certainly takes into account all that we do in this present life, and depending on what we do with His Word will either bring us joy or brings us strife.

And as the LORD reveals the true condition of our hearts, we must totally submit to Almighty God if we are smart.

So that He can cleanse, and purify, and remove all that is evil, but should we refuse we will be guilty of serving the Devil!

Never forget that what The Father has given is much more important to procure, and could be taken away from those who do not keep It secure.

The Gift of God's Spirit should be protected with our very own Life, and cherished, and honored, and adored as a man should be toward His Wife.

*And if we ever willfully ignore God's Voice and speak evil of Him, we will most certainly be in danger of blasphemy the sin,
that could cause us to be eternally separated from Them,*

Who have prepared the Way for all men to be apart of God's Family.
